the Negroes-How They Make Use of Their Freedom-Outrages in a City Governed by

Black Guards. [From the Mamphis Ledger, Sept. 18.] We are coming upon eviltimes, and it be-neoves "the powers that be" either to have a regiment of white troops stationed at this point, or to reorganize the militia for the pro-tection of life. We believe the negro man has certain rights which should be sacredly respected, but when that race uses the fre which a good country has vouchasfed them for the purpose of partian warfare on the whites, it is high time they should be taught the Government which protects also punishes them. There were no less than three negro disturbances yesterday, but the most out-rageous one occurred on Jefferson street last rageous one occurred on Jefferson street last evening. A negro man, while passing in the vicinity of the theater, tripped a white boy, causing him to fall heavily to the sidewalk, and, as he did so, called him a "white livered son of b—b." The attack was upprovoked, and, the boy rising, strack at the negro. A white man, who was standing by, observing the unequal contest, seized a brick and struck the negro on the head, causing rather an uggly wound. This was no sooner done than about a hondred negroes gathered around the about a hundred negroes gathered around the spot, and the colored guards made their ap pearance. The white man made his escape, and ran in a livery stable close at hand; the stable was surrounded, and the negroes clamored for his life. They were very excited and all kind of threats were freely made, Hac the poor white man been caught at this time, the guards would not have been able to pro-tect him, and he would have surely been murdered. The white man, finding that there murdered. The white man, hoding that there was no chauce of escaping from the stable unnoticed, boldly came through the crowd, and was making away from them, when he was recognized by one of the party. "There he goes!" was shouted from a hundred lips, and now commenced a race down Jefferson street for hie and death.

down Jefferson street for hie and death. "Shoot him down!" Kill him!" "Fire on him!" "The d—d white son of a b—h will escape!" Bang, bang, went the guns, and as we saw the red blaze emitted from the weapons we felt a chill of horror to think that probably the poor fellow had lost his life. The liring took place on Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth, while the street was crowded with people and it supressed a mixedle to Third and Fourth, while the street was crow-ded with people, and it appeared a miracle to us that no one was bit. The white man en-tered another stable, and was lost. The crowd watched the spot for some time and then gradually dispersed, muttering vengeance on the whites. One negro made the remark that the colored people would yet rule Mem-phis, or they would kill every white man in the place. The white man was arrested by the courds last evening after dark and placed the place. The white man was arrested by the guards last evening, after dark, and placed in the Irving block. If the white man was wrong in what he did, the law will settle with him, but this gathering of negroes because one of their race has been punished for its audacity, and clamoring for the life of a white man, is something that bodes no good to the peace of the community, and should not be

RUNOERE BOMICIDE OF A NEGRO.

There was a runor pretty extensively circulated through the city yesterday that a negro man had kicked the wife of a white man off the side-walk, and that the indiguant husband had seized a hatchet, and literally cut the black to pieces. We give the rumor for what it is worth, as we were unable, after a thorough search, to find any thing reliable in the statement.

yesterday, in the vicinity of the No. 5's engine house. We are informed that the difficulty was brought on by the impudence of neutry was brought on by the imputance of a negro who insulted several white man, and finally defied a policeman, that as he was on the eve of striking the officer some unknown individual threw a brick at him, causing him to fall, when the officer gave him such a severe to fall, when the officer gave him such a source castigation that the negro is not expected to tive. A large crowd of blacks gathered at the scene of disturbance, and threatened to take the law in their own hands. The colored guard arrived and arrested the policeman and several other white men, supposed to have had a hand in the disturbance. This assem-blage of negroes to side with their color when one of them gets into a difficulty with a white man should be stopped at once, or it may bring on results of a serious character. They should be made to know that they are not the guardians of the law, and that those who have justice in their bands will see it
